

What contributes to case complexity?

- Reluctant victim
- High risk of re-victimization
- Co-occurring abuse types
- Increasing in incidence/severity
- Sexual abuse is present
- Hard-to find resource needed
- Multiple systems involved
- Multiple perpetrators
- Multiple health/mental health issues complicate risk reduction
- Decisional abilities not clear
- Challenging legal issues
- Challenging safety planning
- Challenging ethical issues
- "Revolving door" case
- Other?

No one factor necessarily makes a case complex; often it is a combination of factors.
